

THE REAL DEAL

NEW YORK REAL ESTATE NEWS

March 2018 Issue

Who's designing NYC's skyline?

How the most prolific architecture firms in the five boroughs are winning commissions and adjusting to the latest market realities

https://therealdeal.com/issues_articles/whos-designing-nycs-skyline/

By Kathryn Brenzel |

Research by Ashley McHugh-Chiappone

March 01, 2018 10:00AM

This month, The Real Deal pored over permit applications filed with the city's Department of Buildings and ranked the most prolific architecture shops in the city to determine which of them have maximized those relationships and designed the most square footage of new buildings in the five boroughs between Jan. 1, 2012, and Jan. 31, 2018.

NYC'S MOST ACTIVE ARCHITECTURE FIRMS

RANK	FIRM	TOTAL SQUARE FEET	NUMBER OF PROJECTS
1	SLCE Architects	20.69M	87
2	Hill West Architects	13.09M	43
3	Dattner Architects	9.54M	65
4	Perkins Eastman	8.80M	48
5	Adamson Associate Architects	8.69M	10
6	Kohn Pendersen Fox Associates	8.32M	12
7	Handel Architects	6.96M	30
8	Aufgang Architects	5.89M	59
9	Skidmore, Owings & Merrill	5.86M	12
10	Fischer and Makooi Architects (Karl Fischer)	4.87M	93

THE BRONX

RANK	FIRM	TOTAL SQUARE FEET	NUMBER OF PROJECTS
1	Dattner Architects	3.09M	18
2	Badaly Architect	2.55M	103
3	Curtis + Ginsberg Architects	1.62M	6
4	Aufgang Architects	1.58M	18
5	Magnusson Architecture and Planning	1.39M	14